

Name: _____

Revolution Important People and Battles Review

	Helped with the declaration of independence and was a strong supporter in congress for freedom
	King of Great Britain during the Revolution
	Served as Commander-in-Chief of the American militia and first President of the United States traitor who sold secrets to the British
	Said the famous line "Give me liberty or give me death!"
	warned the colonists that the British were coming to attack at Lexington by riding his horse through the night offered support by creating bullets, being spies, and following the camp. They were not allowed to battle but some were able to sneak Were offered freedom to join in the war. After the war most were not given the freedom that they were promised.
	wanted the Colonists off their land. Most fought on the British side.

Name: _____

Battles:

British Advantages	Colonists Advantages
British Disadvantages	Colonist Disadvantages

Name: _____

Battle of Lexington and Concord

_____ Revere and another colonist rode through the night to warn other colonists that the _____ were coming to attack. The colonists were then able to run from Lexington to Concord and _____ the British. The British were forced to retreat to Boston, giving the colonists their first _____ in the first battle of the war.

Battle of Saratoga

There were _____ Battles at Saratoga. The first ended with the patriots _____, but the second ended with the colonists taking control of the battle and ultimately winning. This victory was important because it led the _____ to become involved in the war. The French began _____ resources and financial support to the colonists.

Valley Forge

This was not actually a battle, this was the _____ of 1777/1778. The colonists set up camp in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. German General Baron von _____ to train the Patriots how to _____ in formation, _____ quickly, use bayonets and become soldiers. He helped transform the Continental Army into an army that could _____ fight the British.

Yorktown

American troops took advantage of a _____ British force in _____. The _____ helped the patriots defeat the British troops. This battle is considered to be the _____ important battle of the Revolutionary War. It marked the finality of the American victory.

Name: _____

Government and Documents

What was the Declaration of Independence, when was it written?

What is the Treaty of Paris? When is it Written? What does it do?
